RUTH PASTINE ACQUIRED BY THE MUSEUM OF CONTEMPORARY ART SAN DIEGO

"Inevitability of Truth 16-S6060", 2015, Oil on canvas, 60 x 60 inches

Scott White Contemporary Art is pleased to announce
Ruth Pastine's painting "Inevitability of Truth 16-S6060" has been acquired by the Museum of Contemporary Art San Diego's permanent collection. We hope you will join us in congratulating Ruth on this important acquisition by such a prestigious institution.

The Museum of Contemporary Art San Diego has been a supporter of Pastine's for a number of years and featured her work in their 2015 exhibition "San Diego Collects" which highlighted influential works from private collections within the San Diego region. MCASD's acquisition marks the culmination of a natural relationship between the artist and Museum whose permanent collection features many key pieces from the California Light and Space movement. Pastine has demonstrated throughout her stellar career a keen understanding of light and color relationships. Her intensely saturated paintings draw the viewer into an immersive experience exploring the endlessness of color.

Since Scott White Contemporary Art's solo exhibition with Pastine in 2013, the artist has been recognized by several important institutions. First, the Lancaster Museum of Art and History honored Pastine with a retrospective highlighting key works from the artist's career dating from 1993-2013. In 2015, the Carnegie Art Museum featured current paintings and pastel works on paper in a solo exhibition with the artist. Finally, the Frederick R. Weisman Art Foundation acquired Pastine's work for their permanent collection late last year and immediately selected the painting for their traveling exhibition "Made in California: Selections from the Frederick R. Weisman Art Foundation". MCASD's recent acquisition adds further excitement and interest surrounding the artist.

We are proud to share this noteworthy career achievement and hope you will join us in congratulating Ruth Pastine on her continued success.
